What eBooks do we publish and how are they supplied?

What digital learning materials do we have for academics and students?

We have a range of online resources to support teaching and learning, from packages created specifically to compliment a specific textbook, to wider suites to support a discipline or skill set. These include resources designed to facilitate deeper or broader learning, such as case studies, journal articles and videos, as well as tools for revision, such as multiple choice questions, flashcards and games.

Why should your department invest in an eBook solution?

- Added value for prospective students: assure parents and students that they are receiving great value for money for their tuition fees and a higher guarantee of success after graduation
- Greater access and convenience for students: level the playing field by giving your students around-the-clock access to course materials
- More effective interaction with your students: enhance their experience and safeguard your institution's reputation as we look to an increasingly digital future
- Prestige and recognition of innovation and student support at your department: Universities have received excellence awards for their digital solutions, initiated by students
- Unrivalled range and quality of SAGE content: from introductory textbooks and study guides to articles from world-class journals and high-level online academic and reference works, SAGE is proud to bring you contributions from some of the finest minds in academia, all of which can be tailored to your course or institutional needs.
